

New $550,000 School Bond Issue on Ballot

School Board Asks Voters In November

Nicholas Drive, S. Court Addition

Circleville school district voters will be asked to approve a $550,000 bond issue in November.

Yesterday the Circleville Board of Education adopted a resolution asking the board of elections to place a $550,000 bond issue on the November ballot.

The money, according to Board President Carl Leist, would be used to build a six-room structure on a site along Nicholas Drive, and a 10-room addition to the S. Court St. building.

Other small alterations and repairs also would be done with money from the bond issue.

Leist said, "We are asking for space now."

It is estimated that if the bond issue is approved, a majority is needed, the new structures would be ready for occupancy sometime during 1962.

DEADLINE for filing a resolution placing the issue on the November ballot is July 20.

The board has held several meetings in the last few weeks, some with citizens interested in school problems, in an attempt to work out some method of relieving over-crowded conditions which will plague the system starting this fall.

In May voters defeated a $1,475,000 bond issue by about two to one. That issue called for a complete revamping of the school plant.

Members of the Circleville Board of Education are Leist, R. L. Brehmer Jr., E. G. Grigg, Mrs. Walter Heine and Robert Elisea.

The action was taken at an adjourned session of Tuesday's regular meeting. The board met at noon yesterday to consider the bond issue problem.

It is estimated that the bond issue will cost taxpayers roughly 1.3 mills for every dollar of property valuation, or about 13 cents for each $100 of valuation if the bond issue is for 20 years at 4 per cent interest.

Maumee Plan Is Upheld On Appeal

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Approval of the three-point master plan of improvement for the Maumee Watershed Conservancy District as given by the 15-judge conservancy court last Feb. 10 has been affirmed by the Eighth District Court of Appeals.

The ruling has been received from the clerk of courts, Florence M. Palmer.

The affirmation meant that Allen County Commissioners have lost their appeal from the decision, carried up by Allen County Prosecutor Anthony J. Bowers of Lima.

Bowers had contended that the court was wrong in approving only a part of the complete plan under provisions of amendments to the Ohio law rather than operating under the law as it was at the time the 15-county Northwestern Ohio Conservancy District was created.

The court's opinion said this reasoning does not prevail and so affirmed the conservancy court's approval of the plan as presented by the directors of the conservancy district.

The three-point program carries an estimated cost of $2,919,000, including $1,321,900 in the Tiffin River Basin; $1,026,100 in the Little Auglaize Valley, and $571,000 along Grassy Creek.

Palmer Is Edged In British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Kel Nagle, soft spoken ex-lumber jack from Australia, won the British Open golf championship today as a dramatic, last-half charge by Arnold Palmer of La-Trobe, Pa., fell a single stroke short.

Palmer, who won the Masters and the United States championships with spectacular late rallies, fired a five under par 68 over the soggy, rain-splashed Old Course postponed fourth round today. But his score wasn't good enough to wipe out Nagle's advantage. The Australian had a final 71 for 279 and the title.

Slain Salesman's Partner Held for Probe of Assault

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Harry Jordan, 22, who was with a fellow magazine salesman when he was shot fatally Thursday night, is in Delaware County jail today under investigation of assault with intent to rob.

Lester Hoy, 77, a farmer near Galena, told Sheriff Harley Wornstaff that Jordan and another man attempted to rob him at his home Wednesday night after the pair had first tried to sell him magazines. He said the men left without any money.

Jordan, of Danville, Ill., was with James Horn, 21, of Detroit, Mich., and Kansas City, Mo., Thursday night when Horn tried to sell magazines to Joseph Schmeltzer, 66, of near Newark in Licking County.

At that time Jordan told authorities Schmeltzer ordered Horn off the property and then fired two blasts from a 12 gauge shotgun, killing the young salesman.

Schmeltzer was found dead on the floor of his home when Jordan returned with Licking County deputies.

It still has not been determined what caused Schmeltzer's death. However, a pathologist, Dr. James Quinn of Newark City Hospital, said he has found evidence of a brain tumor and arterial clot in the autopsy on Schmeltzer's body. He said the death was of natural causes.

Hoy said Jordan and the other man, whom he believes was Horn, came to his home Wednesday evening. Hoy said after he told the salesmen he did not want any magazines they asked if they could have a drink of water. When

Ohio State ROTC To Be Retained

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Advocates of a non-compulsory Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) program at Ohio State University will have to wait at least another year before any action is taken.

University President Novice G. Fawcett told a board of trustees meeting Friday that certain mechanics of a voluntary program must be resolved first.

Fawcett said it is too near the opening of the fall quarter to provide proper guidance for freshmen.

Under the voluntary ROTC program approved by the Faculty Council, incoming freshmen would work on academic subjects. This substitution for ROTC courses could increase costs by more than $200,000 a year.

When they could find no money they fled.

Both Hoy and Schmeltzer lived alone.

Red Rioting Seems Boon For Premier

ROME (AP) — Bloody Communist rioting, aimed at ousting Premier Fernando Tambroni's Christian Democrat government, appeared today to have backfired and to have strengthened his hand instead.

The rioting, Italy's worst in years, has brought death to 10 and injuries to more than a thousand—both demonstrators and police. No major Italian city has escaped the disorders during the past two weeks.

Communist orators have repeatedly demanded that Tambroni must go or, as one pro-Communist senator put it, Italy will "be a government of civil war."

A week ago the Premier looked as if he was in trouble. In the early stages of the rioting, Communist demonstrators forced the government to order the cancellation of a Fascist national congress in Genoa.irate Fascists threatened to withdraw their support from the government. They said it should have given them more protection.

But in the past three days violent rioting has created a new, critical situation in which the Fascists are expected to think twice before opposing Tambroni. And some say the Liberals and Monarchists might have second thoughts too if matters come to a head in a confidence vote. Tambroni's big test is expected to come Tuesday when both houses of Parliament debate the rioting.

KHRUSHCHEV WARNS U.S. KEEP HANDS OFF CUBA

U.S. Diplomats Eye Cuban Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, back from a week's vacation, confers with Undersecretary Douglas Dillon today on the Cuban crisis in preparation for a policy meeting Monday with President Eisenhower.

Herter returned from his summer home at Manchester, Mass., Friday night in order to get a first hand report prior to Dillon's departure this afternoon for a European trip.

The State Department was still awaiting clarification of the Mexican government's attitude on the U.S. row with the Cuban regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro. A statement late Friday night by a close friend of Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos was certain to raise further questions.

Mexican Senate Leader Manuel Moreno Sanchez told newsmen in Guadalajara that Mexico must provide Cuba with oil. Moreno Sanchez said Cuba is facing a "social and human crisis" and that Mexico could not remain indifferent. He said "it is not a matter of trade... it is entirely a social and human catastrophe."

The State Department had inquired of the Mexican ambassador here Friday and at the foreign office in Mexico City whether the government supports a pro-Castro stand taken by another leading Mexican legislator. It got no immediate answer.

The legislator, Emilio Sanchez Piedras, a Congressional spokesman for Mexico's ruling party, said in a speech Thursday that his nation is solidly backing the Cuban people against the United States. The U. S. Ambassador in Mexico, Robert C. Hill, made inquiry of the Mexican foreign office while Assistant Secretary of State Roy R. Rubottom discussed the situation here with Mexican Ambassador Antonio Carrillo Flores.

Hill reportedly was instructed by the State Department to express to the Mexican government President Eisenhower's personal interest in maintaining friendly relations with Mexico on this as on other issues.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference: "The President has been working with the Secretary of State for some time on a comprehensive plan to be submitted to the economic ministers of the American states at Bogota Colombia in September in the hope of making more effective our mutual cooperative work in raising the living and social standards of our respective populations."

"The plan will deal particularly with methods for making United States participation more effective."

Hagerty declined to go into any detail. His statement left open the possibility of additional economic aid to Latin American countries. But he said he could not discuss that in advance of the President's meeting with Herter.

Kennedy Corps Tightens Ring Around Rivals

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy tightened the cordon around his rivals today as pre-convention battling over the Democratic presidential nomination neared a climax.

No matter where his opponents turned for support from uncommitted delegations, Kennedy's astute operators already had made their effective calls.

As the acknowledged front runner, the Massachusetts senator—due here today—could point to banked-up support in every area still regarded as political open range in advance of the convention's formal opening Monday.

If the platoon leaders of delegations from California, Minnesota, Illinois, New Jersey and Pennsylvania consented to turn their ranks loose, there seemed little doubt that Kennedy would gather a substantial majority of them into his camp.

These five states could provide 203 of the needed 761 votes for the nomination. For a man whose bitterest enemies concede him around 600 on the first ballot, Kennedy regarded any delegate-freeing action in this group with high satisfaction.

To keep Kennedy from storming the nomination fortress on the first convention tally, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and other aspirants counted heavily on Minnesota and New Jersey from these five.

In addition they hoped that Kansas, with 21 votes, and Iowa, with 26, would stick with favorite son governors until there was a chance for a realignment after the initial roll call. They professed to believe that Kennedy would lose support in Indiana, Maryland and Ohio on a second countdown.

Furthermore, a considerable portion of votes from the big California and Pennsylvania delegations was claimed for Johnson by Oscar L. Chapman, chairman of the Citizens for Johnson committee.

Asked in an interview whether Johnson might get 10 or 20 votes from the California delegation, Chapman said, "He will get more than twice that."

Chapman said also he thinks Johnson will receive about one-third of the uncommitted Pennsylvania delegation's 81 votes.

Kennedy scheduled what promised to have all of the trappings of a triumphal entry to Los Angeles during the day. His forces obviously intended to trump the rousing reception given Johnson when he swept into town Friday with the pronouncement that "I'll get it"—meaning the nomination.

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri was following his advance guard into this cauldron of boiling politics. Gov. James T. Blair of Missouri, running interference, said with a show of conviction "I believe we can nominate Stuart Symington."

The list of scheduled arrivals also included Adlai E. Stevenson, who has had two successful shots at the nomination and seems increasingly eager to accept a "draft" that thus far has shown no signs of blowing open convention doors.

When former President Harry S. Truman arrives Monday the cast of major characters will be complete. Truman changed his (Continued on Page 10)

Mexico's Cuban Policy Said To Be Humane, Not Political

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A close friend of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos says Mexico must provide Cuba with oil to cope with what he calls "a social and human catastrophe."

Senate Leader Manuel Moreno Sanchez told newsmen Friday night Cuba is facing "a social and human crisis" and that Mexico could not remain indifferent.

"It is not a matter of trade," the senator said. "Mexico does not have an oil surplus. But Cuba is facing a need for a fundamental element vital to its survival."

"It is a time of crisis. It is not political. It is entirely a social and human catastrophe."

His statement came despite generally unfavorable reaction to an earlier assertion by Deputy Emilio Sanchez Piedras that Mexico must side with Cuba in its clash with the United States.

Sanchez Piedras, government spokesman in Congress, was criticized by Conservatives and other opposition parties, many industrialists.

President Lopez Mateos has remained silent in the controversy which is blowing up in Mexico over Cuban-U.S. relations.

U. S. Ambassador Robert C. Hill made a hurried call on Foreign Minister Manuel Tello late Friday. Details of the meeting were not revealed by either side but Hill left with a worried look on his face.

Indications of a turn in Mexican policy came June 24 at a party given for Moreno Sanchez. At the same time, Gen. Alfonso Corona del Rosal, president of the ruling Party of Revolutionary Institutions, said Mexico should follow a leftist policy.

There was some thought that perhaps Sanchez Piedras may have been somewhat out of step with his government in making the speech. Although he is himself a well-to-do landowner, as well as a leader of PRI, he is considered a disciple of ex-President Lazaro Cardenas, symbol of the party's left wing and champion of agrarian reform. Cardenas' views are a factor in Mexican policy but not in the field of foreign relations.

Officials of the PRI remained silent, waiting word from the President himself.

The federation of farm organizations said "it is not possible for Mexico, free and sovereign, lover of peace and progress," to side with a young dictator who serves knowingly or otherwise a foreign military power such as Russia.

Both Mexicans and outsiders were equally confused by the remarks that Mexico apparently supports Cuba in its dispute with the United States.

Sanchez Piedras told a party caucus Thursday that it appeared the United States is "closing the doors of its friendship and understanding in the face of the yearnings of the Cuban people to live in liberty and economic independence."

The statement has apparently caught the Mexican people by surprise. Many were torn between their friendships with respective neighbors to the north and east. The blood ties of Latin American durability are with the Cubans and at the same time there are many ties developed in recent years in friendship and trade with the United States.

Soviet Cleric's Wife Returns To U.S. Family

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Old and dressed like a peasant, erect and smiling like a queen, Katherine Voronaef returned to her family.

Flanked by two sons, she stepped off an airliner Friday night into the arms of other children and grandchildren.

"I am so glad... so glad," she repeated softly as daughters-in-law and granddaughters she had never seen stepped up to embrace her.

Not since 1936 had Mrs. Voronaef, 73, seen her children. That was the year the Communists banished her to Siberia because she was the wife of a minister. Her husband, John, a priest of the Russian Evangelical Christian Church, had been sent to Siberia four years earlier. She believes he is still alive.

In 1937, her children escaped to America where they had lived—and where three of them were born—while their father was a minister to Russian churches.

Her eldest son, Paul, now 48, changed his name to Vernon and came to Indianapolis. Her other sons, Alexander, 46, of Westchester, Calif.; Timothy, 32, of Minneapolis; John, of Pasadena, Calif.; and Peter, of Willoughby, Ohio, retained the family name. Her daughter, Hope, 38, became Mrs. Daniel Wills of Cleveland.

Alexander said Russian officials tried to persuade his mother not to leave, even after she had her visa.

"They told her the Americans would poison her," he said. "She was so scared she didn't eat anything on the plane to New York."

Soviet Rockets Could Hit U.S. Mainland, Claim

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned today that "Soviet artillery" — meaning rockets — could hit the American mainland if the United States moved against Cuba.

In a blistering speech, he pledged all-out Soviet support for Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and warned the United States to keep its hands off that Caribbean republic.

Amid cheers, he told a meeting of school teachers in the Kremlin that this month's missiles test into the Pacific showed that the Soviet Union had rockets which could hit targets accurately at a distance of 13,000 kilometers (about 8,000 miles.) This would enable them to strike the heartland of the United States.

"Now the United States is not so unreachable as it once was. Speaking figuratively, in case of necessity, Soviet artillery can support with their rocket fire the Cuban people if aggressive forces in the Pentagon dare to start intervention against Cuba," Khrushchev said.

Khrushchev charged that the United States is attempting to strangle Cuba with an economic blockade and added:

"We will help our Cuban brothers fight an economic blockade, and the blockade will be a failure."

The Soviet Premier charged "the people of the Latin American countries are living in poverty because American monopolists are living in richness."

He attacked New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for allegedly suggesting economic reprisals against Cuba. Khrushchev said this was a flagrant example of "monopolist mentality."

He went on to say that despite United States opposition the "Socialist camp" is mightier than ever before.

Speaking of the entire Soviet bloc, he said: "We on our side will do our best to support Cuba. Nobody will succeed in strangling the Cuban people."

The Soviet Premier, who returned from a visit to Austria Friday, led into this section on Cuba by denying that his speeches in Austria attacking the West violated Austrian neutrality.

This charge had been made by the United States.

"If somebody is interfering in internal affairs of another country," he declared, "then it is the United States in Cuba."

Ohio Adults Smoke 182 Packs Yearly

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agriculture Department specialists have come up with some pretty interesting statistics on cigarette smokers in the Buckeye State.

Ohioans smoke so many cigarettes that—even when you include the non-smokers—the figures show an annual consumption of 182 packs for each person above the age of 15.

The department arrives at these statistics by dividing the number of packs sold in each state by the number of persons 15 and over.

Actually, Ohio's average, though it may seem large, is easily topped by California, for example, which averaged 217 packs a person and Maine's 204.

Wheat Ballot Polls Picked

Farmers To Vote On Market Quotas

Official notices of farm allotments for the 1961 wheat crop are being mailed to farmers this week, according to J. Austin Dowden, office manager for the Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Most of the allotments differ only slightly from 1960-crop allotments, since the national acreage allotment remains at the minimum 55 million acres which has been in effect for the past six years. The farm allotments are based primarily on past wheat production history.

Dowden points out that all growers who will produce more than 15 acres of wheat as grain in 1961 will be eligible to cast ballots in the July 21 referendum on marketing quotas for the 1961 wheat crop.

Growers who will have small acreage and those who are taking part in the feed wheat program are not eligible to cast ballots, since the wheat from such farms would not be subject to marketing quota penalties.

"The referendum will decide important questions for wheat producers," Dowden said. "and the outcome, naturally, will represent the will of those growers who take the trouble to cast their ballots."

"If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote approve the quotas, then they will be in effect for the 1961 wheat crop, marketing penalties will apply to the 'excess' wheat of growers who do not comply with their farm allotments, and price support will be available at not less than 75 per cent of parity—the exact level to be announced soon.

"IF MORE than one-third of the voters oppose the quotas, there will be no quotas or penalties for the 1961 wheat crop, and price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law. Allotments will remain in effect as a condition of price - support eligibility.

"Growers who like to make their own decisions should remember that date—Thursday July 21—and be sure to register their opinions by voting at the following places: Circleville, Jackson, Pickaway, Salter Creek, Washington and Wayne Twp. will vote at the American Legion Hall on E. Main St., Circleville.

Harrison, Madison and Walnut Twp., will vote at the Walnut Twp. House.

Muhlenberg, Monroe Scioto, and Darby will vote at the Darby Twp. House.

Deercreek and Perry Twp. will vote at the Pavilion in Williamsport, Ohio.

Home Garden Area Needs Ventilation

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Today, outdoor living is an important part of our daily life. Young and old alike enjoy the outdoors and want to have pleasant surroundings with a minimum of work.

Shorter work weeks mean more leisure time for the development, care and enjoyment of outdoor living areas. With a little imagination, money, and time, even a small home landscape can have an area developed into an outdoor living room.

The selection of plant materials for outdoor living rooms is as important as the selection of furnishings for the indoor living room. Many people fail to realize how important plant selection can be to their enjoyment until they are in a situation where improper selection has brought along some problems.

Some plants attract insects or are usually severely infested with insects and diseases during the summer months. Hedge materials, for instance, will harbor mosquitoes and these, of course, are unwelcome visitors. Several varieties of plants attract flies and bees which are quite bothersome when trying to relax.

Plant diseases can affect many common ornamentals. Using these plants make frequent spraying necessary for disease control. Many varieties of flowering crab trees will lose their foliage if not sprayed regularly. Roses can become unsightly if a spray program is not followed.

SOME plants have undesirable or heavy odors or are heavy pollen bearers. Marigolds, roses, chrysanthemums, and geraniums sometime induce sneezing. Viburnum carlesii (Korean spice bush), Bechtel crab, lilac, and sweet mock orange may be undesirable if the homeowners do not favor plants with heavy odors.

Privacy is often considered as the main feature in landscaping the outdoor living area. Fences and walls give a quick screen but plant material is usually considered more desirable, especially from the neighbor's standpoint. A well-cared for screen of plant material can be enjoyed from both sides while wood or concrete screens sometimes present a problem in softening or ornamentation.

Outdoor living areas should be enjoyed during spring, summer and fall. If the area around the patio or outdoor living room is over planted, there will be a loss of air movement. You move outside for fresh air and very often these outdoor areas are stuffy due to poor air movement.

Plant material in pots and tubs can be used in the terrace and patio landscape. This is sometimes desirable in where the homeowner wants to change the arrangement of the patio furniture.

Often geraniums, petunias, tuberous-rooted begonias, vinca vines, yew (taxus varieties), Japanese hollies, arborvitae, firethorn and house plants are used for this purpose. Attractive areas can be produced with a little imagination and patience.

Many of my calls and letters concern insect and disease control in the home garden. Sometimes, the questions can be answered without seeing the plant material, but very often the problems are of such nature that identification of the trouble through correspondence is impossible. To correctly diagnose the situation, the following points should be considered before recommendations can be given.

What is the name of the plant? It is sometimes very useless to know that a plant is, for instance, only a maple. There are insects and diseases which are specific pests on one maple variety and do not bother another variety.

Where is the plant growing? Is it in the landscape planting, garden, on a slope, in a ditch or along a road? This is important because not all plant troubles arise from insects and diseases. Sometimes the plants are in poorly drained soil, in very dry areas around the foundation or in areas exposed to wind and winter sun.

Wheat Voters Are Described

Just who is eligible to vote in the July 21 referendum on 1961 wheat marketing quotas was today explained by the office manager of the Pickaway Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

According to J. Austin Dowden, any grower in a commercial wheat state who will produce more than 15 acres of wheat as grain in 1961 will be eligible to cast a ballot in the quota vote.

Growers who will have smaller wheat acreages in 1961 and those who are taking part in the feed wheat program are not eligible to vote, since the wheat from such farms would not be subject to marketing penalties under a quota program.

The office manager reminded farmers that those who vote in the July 21 referendum will be the ones who decide what kind of program will be in effect for the next wheat crop. He urges that every eligible voter cast his ballot, so that the result may truly reflect the desires of growers themselves.

At least two-thirds of the total votes cast must be favorable if the 1961 wheat marketing quota is to remain in effect.

Insect Alerts

LEAFHOPPER

Leafhoppers are migrating into Ohio but will not cause damage to second growth alfalfa. If it is dry at time of second cutting they may have multiplied enough to damage the third growth. Sweeping with a net is the only way to see the true number of adults and nymphs.

One of either stage per sweep on new growth is a damaging population. Spray with Methoxychlor, 3 pints per acre, when new growth is 4-6 inches tall. (Much second growth alfalfa in the northern part of the state now shows yellow spotted leaves. This is a disease and into leafhopper damage.)

SAP BEETLES
These are all black beetles under suspicion as being primary sweet corn invaders. These and spotted forms do enter ears already damaged by borers, earworms or birds.

Growers of market sweet corn, who want to try control measures, can try two weekly applications of 1 pint of 50 per cent Malathion emulsion concentrate per acre beginning when most of the silks have browned. DDT has not been satisfactory.

Finch-Tregoff Meeting Sought
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. R. Bernard Finch isn't giving up in his attempts to meet with Carole Tregoff.

Finch, refused by the State Supreme Court in his plea for a private conference room with no guards present, asked Thursday to meet with shapely Carole in the courtroom during noon recesses.

His attorney, Grant B. Cooper, said strategy sessions between the defendants, attorneys and witnesses are needed. The judge is considering the request.

Finch, a wealthy surgeon, and Miss Tregoff, his mistress and onetime receptionist, are on trial for the second time on charges they murdered his socialite wife last year. The first trial ended in a jury deadlock.

Fleeing Parolee Is Shot by Police

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Massillon parolee was shot in the ankle today after he jumped from a moving auto that police were pursuing because it ran through a red light.

Patrolman William Zawie and Edward Hovevar arrested Eugene Robinson, 36, of Massillon, after a chase on the East Side at speeds they said reached 90 miles an hour. The patrolmen said when Robinson saw a roadblock ahead of him he slowed to about 25 miles an hour and jumped from his car.

Police said the car Robinson was driving was stolen in Massillon Wednesday and that Robinson was on probation from an Ohio Penitentiary sentence for auto theft.

Farley Raps Stevenson's Aspirations

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Democratic warhorse James A. Farley took an angry slap today at the presidential aspirations of Adlai E. Stevenson.

Farley said that Stevenson "is prepared to accept the nomination to the presidency apparently in the belief that it is the duty of God, the Democratic party and the American people to force it upon him."

Farley is a backer of Texas' Lyndon B. Johnson.

"To paraphrase a current statement, to send Gov. Stevenson to negotiate with Mr. Khrushchev is to send the cabbage patch to the goat," Farley told a Rotary Club luncheon.

"I have no doubt," Farley, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said, "that the convention will select a candidate who, like Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland, Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman, has personal honor enough to admit he seeks the office instead of instigating a futile and unmanly method of trying to appear as if that great and majestic office seeks him."

Farley was campaign manager for FDR and was postmaster general.

Safety Chief Asks Label For Violators

CHICAGO (AP)—The director of Ohio's Department of Highway Safety says his state's 32 traffic deaths over last Independence Day weekend might have been avoided if traffic violations had been given "the stigma they properly deserve."

J. Grant Keys told a meeting of safety experts from 10 midwestern states that "driver inattention and improper driving are our worst enemies."

"We must take social acceptance out of traffic violations," Keys said. "Speeding or breaking of traffic laws are the only crimes about which we boast in our homes, offices, shops and clubs."

"We must give to traffic violations the stigma they properly deserve."

Despite a safety program that delegates agreed was one of the best in the nation, Ohio was second only to California in the number of traffic fatalities over the Fourth of July weekend. The national death toll of 442 set a record for a three-day Independence Day observance.

DiSalle To Leave Sunday To Beat Drums for Kennedy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle flies to Los Angeles Sunday to bolster Sen. John F. Kennedy's drive for the Democratic presidential nomination amid misgivings among some Ohio delegates.

DiSalle, favorite son who controls 56 of Ohio's 64 national convention votes, remains confident of Kennedy's first-ballot victory. But a stalwart in the governor's bloc expressed some doubts.

"I'm not so sure of Kennedy as I was a week ago," he said. "According to my count, he could come up about 80 votes short."

"If that happens, Kennedy and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas could kill each other off and either Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri or Adlai E. Stevenson could get it."

He recalled that four years ago Kennedy came within 30 votes of winning the vice presidential nomination only to see it go to Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who was nominated by DiSalle.

Requesting anonymity, the delegate said Symington had more second choice support among Ohioans than Stevenson, two-time presidential nominee.

But DiSalle says his tally shows that Kennedy will get more than the 761 votes required for nomination going away.

The governor has a date with the Massachusetts senator soon after arrival in Los Angeles, scheduled for 3:22 p.m., California time. Headquarters of the Ohio delegation is the Figueroa Hotel.

Delegates and alternates will meet Monday in the hotel before the convention opens to count noses, receive credentials and map strategy. None has indicated he couldn't make the 9 a.m. session.

The meeting will be open so that

Counterfeit Credentials Eyed by Dems

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Democratic convention managers are taking elaborate precautions to prevent counterfeiting of credentials to next week's nominating sessions.

J. Leonard Reinsch, executive director of the convention, outlined the security plans today and acknowledged that part of the program involves a last minute distribution of badges and tickets—to give counterfeiters less time to practice their art.

At the 1952 Democratic convention, realistic-looking ribbon badges were hawked on the streets outside Chicago's International Amphitheatre. The result was a traffic jam on the convention floor.

Security measures were tightened in 1956 and have been made more elaborate this year.

For one thing, the laminated plastic badges which will admit delegates, convention workers and newsmen to the floor will be specially treated so secret identifying marks can be spotted under special lights.

Convention officials also have delayed passing out spectator tickets lest someone try to duplicate them. The design of the tickets has been made more intricate than for past conventions.

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is tired and his wife says she thinks he's taxing his health.

"He's trying to do too much," Mrs. Khrushchev told a member of the official party that accompanied the Soviet leader on his 1,000-mile bus tour of Austria. Her face—usually wreathed in a smile—was wrinkled with worry as she confided her anxiety.

delegates controlled by Ray T. Miller of Cleveland, Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman, can attend. The eight-vote bloc also is pledged to Kennedy but Miller and DiSalle are at odds over Buckeye party policies.

Democratic state headquarters chartered an 80-passenger Trans World Airlines constellation ship for the flight from Columbus, leaving at 8:30 a.m. EST. All passengers are insured for $101,250 each.

Accompanying the governor will be Mrs. DiSalle and their daughter, Barbara, a school teacher in Washington. Maurice Connell and Mildred Cunningham are the only staff and office members to make the trip.

Jack-Lyndon Ticket Seen By GOP Chief

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The Democrats probably will send a John F. Kennedy-Lyndon B. Johnson ticket into the November election and "it's going to be a hard fight for us," Sen. Thurston B. Morton, Republican national chairman, said today.

But Morton predicted a Republican presidential victory—with Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the nominee—backed by possible GOP control of the House and strengthening of the party's Senate minority "by a few seats."

Morton told a news conference he has been convinced for some time that the Democratic National Convention, opening Monday in Los Angeles, has been rigged "and I think Kennedy's got it. I think it's cut and dried."

He added that he believes former President Harry S. Truman's news conference, with its suggestion that Kennedy consider carefully whether he is ready for the presidency, "was all a part of the rigged deal" and that "a deal has been made between Kennedy and Johnson."

GI Sacked For Attending Nazi Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine Corps has given a general discharge on grounds of "unsuitability" to Pfc. John C. Patsalas of New York, the Defense Department said today.

A spokesman said Armed Forces Police, acting on a report by an unidentified spectator, escorted Patsalas from a Marine Corps Nazi party rally which the spectators said Patsalas was attending here on May 30.

Gen. David Shoup, Marine Corps commandant, approved Patsalas' discharge July 6.

An investigation into his Marine record was conducted at the time he was stationed at the time.

Shoup approved the recommendation that Patsalas be given a general discharge "under honorable conditions for reasons of unsuitability" the spokesman said.

A Marine spokesman said the unidentified spectator reported that Patsalas was present, wearing civilian clothes, at the rally led by George Lincoln Rockwell, head of the American Nazi party.

Rockwell is a former Naval Reserve officer, who held the rank of commander at the time he was dropped from reserve ranks last Feb. 5.

Secretary of the Navy William Franke approved a recommendation of a Navy Status Board that Rockwell be discharged as a reservist. Later a Navy spokesman said Rockwell's activities in the American Nazi party and "his views on racial matters are considered by the Navy to have reduced his mobilization potential (his use if he were called back to active duty) in the fully integrated Navy."

Grad School Near 'Must'

More students each year are extending their college education into the graduate level. This past school year there were 350,000 graduate students in U. S. colleges and universities.

There are going to be more, too, according to a survey made by Business Week magazine. It found that the growth in the percentage of students staying in college for graduate degrees has been greater in the last two years than ever.

Part of the reason is prosperity. More new graduates can afford to go without a job while they earn a higher degree because there are many more scholarships available, their families can stake them or because their wives can find jobs to support them. This is a reversal of a former pattern, when it was noted that enrollments increased in periods when jobs were scarce.

But there is another facet, too. It is that industry is demanding higher degrees.

Where a bachelor's degree now is considered almost a must to enter industry at a reasonable level, the graduate degree is becoming necessary for advancement, according to college placement officials.

This has university officials worried. They fear the influx of students will cheapen the standards of their graduate schools. But with college degree replacing the high school diploma as a status symbol, perhaps replacement of the college bachelor's degree with the master's and the latter with the Ph.D. is inevitable.

The more you kneel, the better you will stand in the sight of God.

Is Anybody Listening?

Is man alone in the universe in this galaxy? The evidence that man is alone in the solar system is overwhelming. But many astronomers, including Australian-born Dr. R. N. Bracewell of Stanford, believe there is a great deal of intelligent life elsewhere in our own Milky Way galaxy.

Dr. Bracewell began on April 8 to train a radio telescope on the stars Tau Ceti and Epsilon Eridani to see whether he could detect signal patterns emanating from thereabouts. The two were picked as the nearest stars likely to have habitable planets. They are so "close" that signals traveling at the speed of light would reach us in only 10 years. There are billions of planets in space, Dr. Bracewell estimates, and on quite a few of them there must exist conditions at least as favorable as on earth for the development of intelligent life.

If such beings exist, sooner or later we may be hearing from them. Dr. Bracewell has suggested, indeed, that they may have sent an unmanned satellite into our system, from which sounds which may have been signals were picked up in 1927, 1928 and 1934. His search of the silent skies, at any rate, will be continued.

Is anybody listening?

Retailers On Way Out?

A New York University economist has predicted that within a short time retailing establishments will have become obsolete and manufacturers will sell their goods directly to the public or through semi-independent outlets. To a large extent, says Prof. E. B. Weiss, this already has happened.

Many of the larger chain stores, he says, derive greater profit from merchandising schemes of manufacturers and other services than they do selling to the consumer.

Certainly, merchandising techniques are constantly in a state of evolution. From the early-day street vendor and sidewalk merchant to the contemporary multi-floor department store was a long road, with many innovations in between. Nor has this evolution resulted in the elimination of proprietorship retail outlets. The one-man business is threatened more by government regulation and taxation than lack of customers.

Studies by the Bank of America nevertheless show realty investment and development departmental leasing arrangements, installment credit management and warehousing pay a better return on money invested than retailing, and that many large retail corporations are turning their attention to more lucrative fields.

Larger department stores are even going in for manufacturing some of their own wares and manufacturers are exercising more control over their advertising outlays with retailers. All of this makes for an unclear consumer buying situation, coupled with a shift from competition at the retail level to greater price consciousness at the manufacturer's level.

In spite of the apparent confusion, greater participation by the manufacturer in retailing his goods and infiltration into the realms of manufacturing and financing by the retailer, should serve to stiffen competition and produce a wider variety of services to the consumer. As always, those who promote their services by newspaper advertising will fare best.

Harry Truman . . . a Moral Man

By George Sokolsky

When Harry Truman speaks of the "special interests," he employs a term normal in American traditions. When he uses the phrase "a party of privilege," he means the same thing.

It is the concept not of the superiority of the mass over the skilled, but rather the Jeffersonian concept of the equality of man in the eyes of the law and of God. It is this view which produced Populism in the broad Missouri-Kansas area that also produced Harry Truman.

Strictly on moral grounds, Harry Truman made his protest against a "bought" Democratic Convention. Although Truman made it clear that his opposition was primarily aimed at John Kennedy and Adlai Stevenson, he was indicating the system of primaries and of conventions which chooses the candidates of either party.

The expenses for these operations are enormous. The poor man who goes into this thing must become dependent on all sorts of persons and influences.

Naturally, John Kennedy has large sums to expend; his father earned the money. Nelson Rockefeller also has tremendous sums to use; his grandfather earned it. But Rockefeller is inexperienced politically and too stubborn, so that the money did not help him. Hubert Humphrey ran out of money. Richard Nixon is a poor man and a campaign fund had to be raised, but as he is his party's sole candidate, not too much has been required.

In a word, the cost of getting nominated is so high that only those who are themselves rich or who can raise enormous amounts of money have any chance at all. Men like Abraham Lincoln or Woodrow Wilson would face real difficulties today.

Truman said: "The future usefulness of the party and the restoration of direction and leadership to the nation are of such paramount importance that I am impelled to disregard the pleadings of some of my friends to remain silent about the situation that has developed. They have urged me not to do anything to upset or offend anyone by speaking up now."

Those who proposed that Harry Truman remain quiet apparently do not understand the moral character of the man.

They fail to recognize that when Harry Truman was elected by the people in 1948 his personality underwent a sharp change. He was no longer an accident. He was no longer the Vice President who was cleared by Sidney Hillman. He was no longer the piano player with Lauren Bacall on the lid of the piano. He was chosen by the people after a tough campaign in which he appealed directly to the people against the "special interests."

He had defeated Tom Dewey who to him represented the special interests. It was a moral victory for a moral man. He developed qualities heretofore not obvious.

This has to be understood in relationship to Harry Truman's opposition to John Kennedy, whom he does not like as a man although he pretends to. But apart from any personal likings, Truman resents the blitz, the attempt so to arrange matters that there will be no balloting at the convention—no realistic balloting.

His apostrophe to Kennedy is an amazing statement:

Senator, are you certain that you're quite ready for the country or the country is ready for you in the role of President in January, 1961?

It will be used during the campaign, should Kennedy be nominated, by the Republicans. It cannot be withdrawn. The questions it raises cannot be ignored. The an-wers given by Senator Kennedy were impressive but they did not remove the sting of Truman's question.

Whether this comes too late to affect Kennedy's fortunes at the Democratic Convention, we shall only know after the convention, but that it will cut deeply in the vote on Election Day is beyond doubt.

Harry Truman has developed into a surprising personality. He is broad. He is understanding. He is outspoken. He is uncompromising. He gains in popularity every day, particularly among his former enemies, the conservative Republicans who do not quite know what to do. They find in Harry Truman directness a satisfaction which they do not get from any Republican leadership.

Strange things do happen during campaigns and the strangest would be if a distressed electorate found that a new party grew away from the opportunism and conveniences of the two existing parties.

Dems Disrupted By Jump Threat

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As if things weren't already hectic enough at the Biltmore Hotel — headquarters for the Democratic National Convention — there, on the 14th floor, was a man threatening to jump.

Handshaking, backslapping and buttonholing ceased on the crowded sidewalk Thursday, and hundreds—including many delegates—watched as police and newsmen tried to persuade Lee Rhodes, 34, a beauty salon operator, not to jump.

After 50 minutes, newsmen gave Rhodes a good reason why he shouldn't. They agreed to print his story. (The state is revoking his cosmetology license on what he claims is a false charge.) Down he came.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AT ONE OF THOSE lavish, cost-be-damned parties in Hollywood, relates Cynthia Lindsay, the host courted disaster when he hung cages of white doves overhead in the ballroom for decoration. The warmth of the lights confused the birds into thinking it was morning, and they started to lay eggs on the guests.

The stingiest man in Long Island had nightly, violent fights with his wife that intrigued the whole neighborhood. One evening he made a new series of accusations while standing in front of the big picture window in their living room. Wife suddenly seized an iron poker and prepared to throw it at him. The tightwad blanched, threw a protective arm across the window and implored, "Susan! For heaven's sake don't miss me!"

PARKING PROBLEM—Two little European cars parking in Miami, Fla., for one dime at one meter pose a problem for a police traffic officer. He is wondering which car gets the ticket if both still are there when the time runs out. Many owners of economy cars contend they should get some sort of a break, fee-wise, because of the modest demands they make space-wise. (Central Press)

How To Hinder Allergies

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

What are the chances of your children becoming allergic?

They are pretty good (maybe pretty bad would be a better choice of words) especially if you or your spouse have an allergy.

It is conservatively estimated that one out of every ten Americans suffers from some allergic disease sometime in his life.

While allergies can pop up at any time and at any age, most symptoms appear during the first 15 years of life.

The baby in his crib is especially subject to eczema and the growing child is a likely victim of hay fever and asthma.

How can you protect your youngster from developing an allergy? It is virtually impossible. Still, let me pass along a few tips that may be of some help.

I have always advocated breast feeding of an infant whenever possible.

According to the Allergy Foundation of America, the extensive substitution of artificial formulas for the breast feeding of infants appears to be responsible for an increase in infantile eczema.

The Foundation reports that the protein in cow's milk is the most common, but by no means the only allergen in early infancy. This protein may cause gastro-intestinal symptoms and infantile eczema.

Asthma is the most serious of the common allergies.

Radio, TV Set For Convention

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The best covered convention in history—that's the radio-TV outlook for the Democratic parley when it begins Monday.

The man making the prediction is Bill Henry, and he should know. He's coordinator of radio-TV arrangements for both conventions and he's done the job since 1948.

"You won't be able to get away from the convention," Henry observed. "You'll see it in your living room, you'll hear it in your car; you'll even have it in the bathroom. No convention has ever been so widely covered on radio and TV."

"The reason is that it shapes up as a good fight. But the coverage of the Republican convention is going to be almost as big. I think that people sense this is going to be a hot campaign. Nobody is a sure winner, and this time an incumbent isn't running."

Henry added with a grin: "There's another reason the Democrats are getting such good coverage: Everybody wants to see Southern California."

Long-time columnist for the Los Angeles Times, Henry has also been a broadcaster since the early days of radio and will be reporting for NBC at both conventions. He told how he fell into his coordinator post.

"I helped out on arrangements at the 1944 conventions, where there was only radio, in 1948, when TV coverage was only a local affair in New York and Philadelphia, they needed help in setting it up. I was head of the House radio-TV gallery at the time, so I was enlisted."

"I've done it ever since. It's a thankless job and unpaid; I don't even get expenses. But the national committees need someone weeded out the station managers and salesmen who try to worm their way into a free seat."

Jack Christie, radio-TV director or the Democratic National Convention, reports that 980 persons have been accredited, aside from network personnel. Countries represented include Japan, Canada, Great Britain, France, Italy and several in South America.

Shooting Death Called Accident

EAST PALESTINE, Ohio (AP)—The Columbiana County coroner returned a verdict of accidental death today in the fatal shooting June 30 of Max Merrell, 34-year-old barber.

Merrell's body was found in the yard of his home, a .22 caliber rifle nearby. He had been shot in the back of the head.

Dr. William Kolozsi returned his verdict after he and Police Chief Carl R. Lotze conferred with state officials at the Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification in London.

The coroner said, "I am of the opinion, shared by others involved, that Mr. Merrell possibly could have had a dizzy spell, to which he was subject, and possibly using the rifle as a crutch, accidentally shot himself."

Worship Every Week ---

Temperance Speaker Slated
At Calvary EUB Church Here

Mr Howard W. Dykstra, a layman of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, will be the guest speaker at 9 a. m. worship service at the Calvary E. U. B. Church. He is a representative of the Temperance League of Ohio.

The scripture lesson will be read responsively. Mr. Carl Agin, Sunday school superintendent, will assist the pastor, the Rev. G. H. Niswender.

Mrs. Earl Millrons will preside at the organ and will play the following numbers: "Song of Summer" by Peery, "On Wings of Song" by Mendelshon and "Andante Maestoso" by Wilson.

The congregational hymns will include: "Come, Thou Fount," "I Know Not Why God's Wondrous Grace" and "Marvelous Grace." The senior choir will sing "This Is My Father's World" by Kocher.

The children's department under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Shasteen will convene for study at 9 a. m. and for worship at 10 a. m.

The adults will meet at 10 a. m. for the study of the Sunday school lesson.

The Builders Class will meet at 1 p. m. in the church.

Youth Fellowship will meet in the annex at 8 p. m. for the Y-Hour. Diane Rhymer will lead the program.

First Baptist

The Sunday school period begins at 9:30 a. m. with Mr. Wayne Koonce as superintendent. There will be a short period of prayer, song, and devotion before the lesson begins. The lesson will be centered around the "golden text" Amos 5:15 "Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgement at the gate."

In the Sunday morning service, which begins at 10:30 a. m., the pastor, the Rev. W. A. Baria, will bring the message captioned, "Anatomy of Revival." The Bible makes it very clear as to how we can have a revival. The experience of the early church at Pentecost gives us the formula.

The great evangelist Dwight L. Moody said, "I believe that Pentecost was but a specimen day." We can have a revival that will sweep our town and the world if we follow God's way. Simply, there must be a desire on the part of Christian people for the blessings of God, there must be prayer, there must be power, and there must be God's man to lead it. If we follow God's prescription the church will be revived and the lost saved.

Training Union will begin at 6:30 p. m. under the direction of Mr. Charles Bass. The program will be on the theme, "Wall of Separation". It will deal with the subject: Why are Baptists we believe in the separation of church and state.

At 7:30 p. m. the worship service will begin with the pastor preaching on the subject, "A Portrait of Jesus."

First E.U.B.

The Rev. O. F. Gibbs has chosen the theme, "The Soul's Anchor" for the Sunday morning worship service of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church. The service begins at 9:30 a. m.

The church choir, directed by Montford Kirkwood, Jr., will sing. Miss Lucille Kirkwood, organist, will play the following numbers: prelude, "For the Lord Hath Comforted His People" (Prentice); offertory "Adagio Religioso" (Weber); and postlude, "Praise His Name" (Beethoven). Hymns to be sung by the congregation include, "Let the Lower Lights be Burning," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me" and "Home of the Soul".

Edwin Richardson will assist the pastor in the worship service. Sunday school in the children's department will convene in the service center at 9:25 a. m. with Mrs. Robert Dumm and Miss Virginia Wise in charge. Church school in the youth and adult departments will meet following the worship service.

Nursery care is provided in the service center during both the worship service and Sunday School.

Trinity Lutheran

The worship services of Trinity Lutheran Church this fourth Sunday after Trinity will be held at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m. Dr. Ronald Hals, professor at Capital University Theological Seminary will be the guest speaker. His theme is "The Courage To Be A Christian" based on Acts 7:54-60.

Mrs. Karl Herrmann will preside at the organ at both services. Sunday school will follow the early service at 9:30 a. m.

Dial A Devotion, call GR 4-2123 for a one minute devotion.

Presbyterian

"Know Your Church", is the theme for the worship hour at the Presbyterian Church 10:30 a. m. Sunday.

The church is not a particular building, cathedral or tabernacle. Nor is it a particular "group" of people or of customs or peculiarities.

The church is essentially all people who are united in "one mind in Christ", and who try with all their mind and heart and soul and strength to live the way He taught, toward God and all people. This unites every Christian everywhere on earth, with each other and with God the Father, with the Apostles and the Saints, with those we love whom death has taken from our sight, but who are still near us in this fellowship which death can never break. The Rev. Donald Mitchell will develop this theme from the scripture passage in St. Paul's letter to the Ephesians, chapter 4.

In the absence of Mrs. Huston, Jack Mader will be at the organ. He has chosen as his numbers: "Moderato" by Ubbard; "Aria" from Rinaldo, by Handel; "Postlude in G" by Truxell.

Mrs. Ronald E. Knecht, soprano, will sing "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled" by Speaks.

Hymns sung by the congregation will be: "Christ — The Sure Foundation", "I Love Thy Kingdom Lord" and "Take Thou Our Minds".

Youth Fellowship will meet in the Westminster Chapel for devotions at 7 p. m. Sunday. Jack Mader, moderator, will be in charge of the program which follows, in the social room of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hardy, sponsors of the fellowship, will be present.

OKs New By-Laws

CLEVELAND (AP) — Delegates approved today, virtually without change, the text of the 149 by-laws of the United Church of Christ.

The church's constitution was approved Thursday, subject to ratification. The by-laws required a two-thirds vote of the General Synod, but no further ratification. If the constitution goes into effect at the 1961 General Synod in Philadelphia, the by-laws will be declared effective at that time.

Shortly before concluding their three-day session with an approval of the by-laws, the delegates turned down a proposal to enlarge the church's General Synod.

FREE, BUT STILL FIGHTING—Troops push back rioters in Leopoldville, capital of the New Congo Republic, as rival tribesmen stir up a succession of hornet's nests. In Coquilhatville, Equatorial province capital, 10 persons were killed.

What is it about fishing that appeals to so many men? Is it the tang of the out-of-doors, the salt spray, the play of the reel — or is it a part of that age-old challenge of pitting oneself against the forces of nature?

Probably, it is mostly the challenge, for man is forever excited by a dare. Yet, while life is full of challenges, all of them are not fun. When it comes to meeting the greater tests successfully, you need a lot more than a fishing pole. Then it is that Faith comes into its own; then it is that the teachings of the Church are put into practise.

Don't walk by your church next Sunday — walk into it. Equip yourself for your own spiritual future now.

Make Church - Going a Habit

Blueberry Cream Cake Delight Pleases All

CITY COOKS are likely to concoct blueberry cream cake with a sponge-cake base; country cooks usually use rich biscuit as the underpinning.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor

The great American shortcake controversy runs on. Should the foundation of this fruit dessert be biscuit or cake?

Let those who will wage that culinary battle. One thing is certain: the blueberry has always done justice to both biscuit and cake.

Old-time cooks, wise in country ways, made blueberry shortcake with biscuit. First the berries and sugar were brought to a quick boil and kept warm at the side of the stove. Next a rich dough was patted into a shallow oblong pan and baked until the outside was golden and crispy, the innards white and spongy.

The moment the biscuit came from the oven, deft hands cut it into generous squares, split each portion and slathered the soft insides with butter. Then the biscuit was put together again with ladlefuls of the warm berries, topped with more of the oozing purple fruit, and rushed to the table.

A big pitcher was passed, thick cream poured over, and eaters set to with spoons of generous size. This was a dessert to taste in lavish mouthfuls, to enjoy with gusto, to look forward to again and again!

Epicurean city cooks had their own way with blueberry shortcake. They baked meltingly tender sponge cake and filled layers of it with crushed berries and whipped cream.

These sophisticated cooks might choose French-style sponge cake, made with butter. Before the days of the electric mixer all members of the family probably lent a hand for its long long beating. Nowadays a high-powered electric mixer will beat the eggs as stiff as necessary in about 10 minutes; a small portable beater may take 30 minutes.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Kiddies Could Teach Mothers

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would do some innocent children a favor and say something about the following in your column: It is a neighborhood situation where the mothers are acting more childish than their children.

The children (six of them) had a spa. They have long since forgotten about it, but their mothers continue to hold a grudge and refuse to let the children play together.

They're between 7 and 9 and can't understand all this. What do you think?

ONE MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: The mothers

should grow up. Children who are encouraged to fight their own battles and settle their differences in their own ways are far better adjusted socially than those whose mothers have run interference for them during their childhood. I hope the guilty mothers will read this and bury their hatchets along with their hostilities.

DEAR ABBY: I was taken in by a guy who gave me a line that was about as corny as, "My wife doesn't understand me." I have nobody to blame but myself. I wasn't young and innocent. I was 28 and should have known better.

I made the mistake of slapping a paternity suit on the heel and I lost. I am not the kind of person who gives away her baby. Even an animal wouldn't do that. Do you have a list of homes for unwanted mothers? I want to go to one as far away from this town as I can get. When this is all over I want to start a new life somewhere. I can support myself and I'm not licked yet.

THROUGH THE MILL
DEAR THROUGH: I have the list. Send me your name and address.

DEAR ABBY: How many times should a boy let a girl turn him down for a date before giving up on her? I have asked this girl to go out with me ten times and she has refused every time. She always gives me a real good excuse (at least it seems like it at the time) but I wonder if maybe she doesn't care to go out with me and is trying not to hurt my feelings? How is a guy supposed to know? I always give her plenty of notice, but she is either "busy" or "going out of town".

Her friends say she really likes me, but I am beginning to wonder. Please tell me if I should ask her again, as I am—

GETTING A COMPLEX
DEAR GETTING: Do yourself a favor and forget her. TEN refusals is about seven more than the average man would tolerate.

CONFIDENTIAL TO STEVE:
Do right and fear no man. Don't write and fear no woman.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

General Tele Expert Being Questioned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A consulting engineer from Indianapolis, who reportedly traveled more than 8,000 miles during visits to calculate the worth of General Telephone Co. of Ohio's operations, is being questioned closely at a Utilities Commission hearing here.

He is Earl L. Carter, a utility valuation expert retained by the company to back up its application for a $2,941,651 annual rate increase. The application is opposed by 33 cities and villages served by the company.

Carter took the stand Wednesday and remained on Thursday. He was questioned extensively about reproduction costs by Asst. Atty. Gen. Andrew R. Sarisky, counsel for the Utilities Commission, and attorney John A. Eckler of Columbus, representing the protesting communities.

Carter said the company's reproduction cost as of Dec. 31, 1958—figuring depreciation—is $68,257,671.

There will be no continuation of the hearing today, but it resumes Monday (2 p. m.) and is scheduled to continue weekdays for the next two weeks.

Ford Is Lone Yank Starter Able To Win

Four Others Lose, But Bombers Retain 3-Game Lead in AL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It wasn't so long ago that the New York Yankees were wondering when Whitey Ford would get back to form and round out their pitching staff. Now the stubby southpaw is the only starter who has won in the past five games.

Jim Coates, Ralph Terry and Bob Turley all missed decisions in that span, and Friday night Art Ditmar was tagged with the loss as the Yankees were beaten 8-0 at Boston by the seven-hit pitching of Bill Monbouquette.

Despite the loss, New York retained a three-game lead over Cleveland in the American League. The Indians dropped their third in a row to the Chicago White Sox, 4-1. Washington rapped third place Baltimore 9-5 and gained a fifth place tie with the Detroit Tigers, who lost 5-4 at Kansas City in 13 innings.

Ditmar (7-5) dropped his second in a row when Boston scored twice in the fourth on two-out singles by Don Buddin and Haywood Sullivan. The last place Red Sox then scored six in the seventh off reliever Eli Grba on four walks and just two hits—a three-run homer by Willie Tasby, and a three-run pop fly double by Frank Malzone.

Bill Monbouquette (8-7) walked three and struck out eight, saving his second shutout by fanning pinchhitter Gil McDougald and getting Tony Kubek on a fly with the bases loaded in the seventh. Washington scored four unearned runs while handing the Orioles their fifth straight defeat at home. Julio Becquer's two-run double brought the Senators from behind in the fifth against Jack Fisher (5-7). Dan Doherty homered for the Nats, who also scored on a balk by reliever Gordon Jones. Pete Ramos (5-9) was the winner, giving up nine hits in his first complete game in eight tries since Memorial Day.

The White Sox, now 7-4 against the Indians, beat Gary Bell (7-7) with two runs in the first inning. Sherm Lollar's sacrifice fly brought in the clincher after Luis Aparicio doubled and scored as Ken Aspromonte threw wild on a bunt. Aparicio's double, scored as Ken Aspromonte threw wild on a bunt. Aparicio's double, scored as Ken Aspromonte threw wild on a bunt.

A two-run single by Bill Tuttle did it for the A's after Charlie Maxwell's 13th homer gave Detroit a 4-3 lead in the top of the 13th. The Tigers, who have lost 9 of 12 to Kansas City, had tied at 3-3 on Al Kaline's two-run homer in the seventh. Johnny Kucks (2-3) was the winner and Dave Sisler (5-3) the loser, both in relief.

It appears the San Francisco Giants, who can't play cards for high stakes and can't stay up late, now can't win ball games either. They've won only six of 19 since mid-June, when Tom Sheehan replaced Bill Rigney as manager. And they've lost four in a row since Sheehan, who chewed 'em out about the card games and late hours, was named skipper for the rest of the season by owner Horace Stoneham.

The Giants were second, four games out of first, when Sheehan took over. But they're tied with St. Louis for fourth place, 8½ games behind, after Friday night's 7-1 thumping by the Cardinals.

First place Pittsburgh split a two-night doubleheader at Philadelphia, winning 8-3 after a 6-5 10th inning loss. That shaved the Pirates' lead to five games over the Milwaukee Braves, who beat Cincinnati 6-3. Los Angeles moved into third place with a 5-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs, the Dodgers' fifth straight and 10th in 12 games.

GE, Chambermen Roll in Babe Ruth

General Electric rolled into first place and Chamber of Commerce strengthened its hold on third with victories in Babe Ruth League play here yesterday.

GE, winning its second game of the week, clubbed Kiwanis, 14-3, and C of C stormed over Ashville, 12-6. The win pushed GE a half game in front of DuPont which still must play Ashville in first round play.

General Electric hurler Freddie Moore roadblocked Kiwanis with six hits. His mates found the range for 13 singles, three of them for extra bases.

The electricmen staked Moore to a 10-run lead in the first inning. Kiwanis quickly opened up with three markers in the bottom of the first, but Moore proceeded to put out the fire for the next six innings.

The winners started the test with successive singles by David Bass, Roger Roebuck and Granville Jones. Three walks, a hit batter and three Kiwanis errors accounted for the rest of the GE scoring in the first.

Kiwanis picked up two runs in the first on an error of Howard Dade's hot grounder, a walk to Jack Cook and Ronnie Ash's single to right. Wendell Lovett then chased Ash home with a sacrifice fly to right.

GE earned two more runs in the fourth on a walk to Bob Purcell and Moore's line-drive triple to left center. Purcell scored on the three-bagger and Moore came home on Wood's bunt.

The electricmen finished scoring in the sixth on a single by Wood, two errors, Bass's third single of the day and a hit batsman.

Moore allowed six hits, struck out four and walked two. Garold Dade was charged with the loss. He walked four and fanned three before being relieved by Mike Spangler in the seventh. Spangler

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Prince Vic, a 7-year-old outsider, turned in a surprise Friday night, winning the second leg of the featured trot at Hamilton Raceway.

A 20-1 shot, the trotter had finished fifth in the first dash, a one mile test. But in the mile and a sixteenth dash, Prince Vic took the lead in the stretch and won without difficulty, finishing in 2:15.0.

Prince Vic was driven by owner Frank Grice of Greenview. Frisco Brewer picked up a lead at the start and held it all the way in winning the first ash in 2:10.0. Owned by the Metzker stable of Mayfield, Ky., Frisco Brewer paid $7.40.

Brown Looks At His Defense

3 New Backfield Men Sought by Pro Coach

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coach Paul Brown says the Cleveland Browns may be looking for three new defensive backs this season.

Kenny Konz, veteran from Louisiana State, hasn't signed his contract and reportedly is thinking of joining Warren Lahr in retirement from professional football.

Only Jim Shofner and Bernie Parrish, regular corner men from last season will be back if Konz quits. Shofner may be late reporting for training as he must take some Army training this summer.

Depletion of the Browns' defensive backfield corps started when Junior Wren was traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers last winter.

Brown said the showing of Ross Fichtner, rookie from Purdue, at the three-day quarterback and d rookie training camp at Hiram College which closed Friday, was the one bright spot in the situation.

"We think that Ross can move right into a safety spot," the coach said. "He has the speed and I feel he'll pick up our system quickly."

Dick Schafrath from Ohio State, in his second year as a professional, worked Friday at offensive tackle after spending the first day at center. Brown said he thought Schafrath could handle either assignment.

The coach also was impressed by the work of Len Dawson, quarterback obtained from the Steelers. "He can throw the football, but has a job cut out for him against Milt Plum and Jim Ninowski," Brown said. "They have the experience."

The Browns' regular training camp will open at Hiram July 24.

Redlegs Head For Seventh; Hitters Fail

MILWAUKEE (AP)—With the Cincinnati Reds tumbling down toward seventh place, it's useful to remember what Manager Fred Hutchinson said just two days ago:

"When some of our big guys, like (Frank) Robinson, (Vada) Pinson and (Gus) Bell start banging the ball around like I know they're capable of doing, I'm sure we'll battle our way back into contention."

"Also, look for our pitching to be better the second half" of the season.

After Friday night's 4-3 trouncing by Milwaukee's Braves, it seems Hutchinson has put his finger on the big Redleg trouble—hitting.

The only Red with more than one hit was Wally Post, a Cincinnati retread so happy to be back with the Reds he's been hitting homers and other useful blows profusely since his June 15 trade from Philadelphia.

Post hit a home run in the seventh inning one of just two hits off Juan Pizarro up to the ninth inning.

Three more Cincinnati hits came in the ninth and Pizarro had to let Ron Pierce finish up.

The Red flurry started when Pinson doubled and Bell tripled him home. Post followed with a double that brought in Bell.

Piehe came in, fanned Robinson and got pinch hitters Jerry Lynch and Harry Anderson on flyouts.

The Braves went right to work on Jay Hook and scored all their runs off him in the first five innings.

Wes Covington's two-run double highlighted a first inning uprising that produced three runs. Hank Aaron hit his 24th home run in the fourth inning.

2 Homers Win For Columbus

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The newly homeless Havana Sugar Kings of the International League met another setback Friday night, a 3-1 defeat at the hands of Richmond. The Virginians ran their winning streak to four games.

The league-leading Toronto Maple Leafs swept a doubleheader from Rochester, 4-1 and 5-0, while Columbus defeated Miami 2-1 and Buffalo and Montreal played a 1-1 game halted after eight innings because of rain.

Home runs by Dick Gray and Tom Burgess were all that Bennie Daniels needed to beat Miami, as he doled out only five hits. Three consecutive Miami singles in the first inning put him behind 1-0 but Gray's sixth homer tied it in the second and Burgess' seventh was the winner.

Chisox Hand Tribe Another Sound Licking

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cleveland Indians got three more chances today and Sunday to prove that they CAN beat the Chicago White Sox.

Behind the six-hit pitching of southpaw Frank Baumann (5-4), the White Sox beat the Indians 4-1 Friday night for their third victory over the Tribe in as many days.

The Indians held onto second place in the American League, three games behind the New York Yankees. Chicago is only 1½ games behind the Indians and 1 game behind Baltimore.

The Chisox have whipped the Indians seven times in 11 meetings this year.

Chicago capitalized on Indian errors, stolen bases and walks in handing Gary Bell his seventh defeat against seven victories.

Luis Aparicio's double, Nellie Fox's single and a wild throw by Ken Aspromonte gave the Sox their first run in the first inning. Minnie Minoso forced Fox, but came home after Roy Sievers singled and Sherm Lollar hit a sacrifice fly.

Chicago added another run in the second inning on a walk, a stolen base and a single by Aparicio. The White Sox made it 4-1 in the sixth, when Jim Piersall dropped Lollar's liner to start the inning. A single and a walk loaded the bases. Baumann hit a foul fly to left, Aspromonte's relay to the plate was wide and Lollar scored.

A single by Woodie Held in the second inning knocked Cleveland's only run. Vic Power scored it after he singled and John Romano walked.

BOMBERS AWAY!—The Yankees' two mighty men of maul, Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle, are giving the Bombers their best 1-2 power punch since the days of the great ones, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. Four times the Ruth-Gehrig combo totaled 80 or more homers per season in the years 1927-1931, with the top year being 1927 when the immortal Bambino belted his record 60 homers and "Iron Lou" pounded out 47. Gehrig and Joe DiMaggio combined in 1937 to total 83 homers and Mantle and Yogi Berra collected 82 in 1956. Maris and Mantle had 43 by the end of June. (Central Press)

Cincinnati Files Suit Against Ex-City Aide

CINCINNATI (AP)—The city of Cincinnati wants Leo Cafferata, former director of off-street parking, to pay $31,250 he has admitted receiving as commission on sale of a building to the city while he was still a city employee. The city sued Cafferata Friday. A jury in Common Pleas Court convicted Cafferata June 23 on a charge of conflict of interest.

Golfing with ALEX MORRISON Teacher of Champions

Your left side can't lead automatically. It must be favored from the start as by gripping first with the left hand.

Jack Burke recently found that he was slighting his left side. The corrective measures he tried didn't get the job done. They were based mainly on intention and not Attention. I reminded him that intending to use the left side properly wasn't enough. No matter how well-trained the left side may be it never will function automatically. In other words, it must constantly be favored in proportion to your tendency to slight it. To convert resolutions into action a number of things must be done. One of these is gripping first with the left hand while the club-head rests naturally on the ground and the shaft leans against your left leg. Many players favor the right hand by gripping first with the right hand when the club is off the ground or near the right leg. If you find yourself doing this stop and grip first with the left hand.
